5. Delivery of Service/Implementation:

Implementation Plan

In the following paragraphs, a tentative procedure for time bound ERP (MIS) execution is mentioned. However, this procedure can be altered with mutual consent.

ERP Pre-Requisites

The success of ERP totally depends on fulfillment of ERP pre-requisites by Purchaser. It is mandatory for PURCHASER to make necessary arrangements of system requirements (Hardware, System software, man power & networking, ERP (MIS) room etc.) on priority basis. The ERP (MIS) utilization at User work table can only start after fulfilling the system requirements pre-requisites submitted by Supplier. Meanwhile Users will be required to come to Server ERP room or training room for training, testing & utilization of modules.

- a) Apart from ERP-Professor-In-Charge, Purchaser will provide at least one full time ERP System Administrator who will be involved in ERP implementation and his/her duties will include ERP modules installation, testing, System software installation on servers including OS, network trouble shooting, User training etc.

- b) Since Servers, network, OS, System software, fire wall – the complete IT & other infrastructure is to be provided by Purchaser, it is obvious that all the related technical issues are to be sorted by Purchaser's Technical team. It shall be appreciated that when Hardware and system software is functioning smoothly, ERP can function properly.

Step -1 Existing RF-CAMPUS© ERP installation, Demonstration & first Payment

- a) Developing totally new versatile and stable ERP with such features and magnitude is impossible in a short time schedule of six to eight months. The existing RF-CAMPUS© developed by the Supplier is extensively used by several NITs and other Government Autonomous colleges of National repute from last many years and is versatile & stable. Hence, Purchaser has decided that existing RF-CAMPUS© ERP will form the basis of customization of ERP required by the Institution. For stability of ERP, Purchaser will ensure that ERP process & flow will be simple and what can be done manually much better will not be computerized.
- b) Purchaser will arrange a high end computer for installation of existing RF-CAMPUS©. Supplier will install existing module on this system of Purchaser and a detailed module-wise demonstration schedule in ERP (MIS)/Computer lab will be organized by Purchaser in consultation with Supplier. Supplier will handover preliminary license of RF-CAMPUS along with existing soft copy of RF-CAMPUS User manuals. At this stage Purchaser will release 75% of payment to the Supplier.

Step – 2: User Requirement Changes Finalization – After receipt of 75% payment

- a) The Supplier will organize detailed demonstration and User Interaction & will finalize on site User requirements/Flow. During this requirement finalization, if desired, Users may enter sample data and can generate various reports. Users can give genuine changes in such reports. If required, essential additional reports & genuine changes in process will be finalized by Suppliers team in consultation with Users. For the success, Purchaser will ensure that Users are actively participating in this Programme and are giving top priority to ERP (MIS). Users of the Purchaser must give written approvals for modification of documents, if any, within one week from submission of the documents by the Supplier team.
- b) The User will appreciate that, the total service support period is 18 months from date of first installation and all necessary customizations desired during this warranty will be given by the Supplier. So even if Users forget some changes at this initial stage, subsequently such requirements can be given to Supplier and Supplier will do the same.

Step 3 - Customization at Head Office

- a) The expert team of the Supplier at its Head office will customize the ERP (MIS) as per User requirements collected in phase - 2 and will complete the necessary testing. The customization will be done one at a time based on priority for all modules.

- b) Meanwhile the Purchaser can use the ERP for data entry work, training, trial runs....

Step 4 – Installation, training, testing & Approval of customized Modules

- a) Once a module is customized, same will be installed on ERP Server replacing the existing module. Training, testing and module approval of customized module will normally be organized in ERP room/Computer Lab. If networking is not available at User location, PURCHASER will ensure that the User will come to Server room for ERP sample test data entry, testing and actual utilization. A formal training schedule will be worked out by ERP-Professor-In-Charge for User training in consultation with actual Users and Supplier team. Necessary formal notices of such training will be issued by Purchaser. Necessary concerned Users must be present in this training and practical session. User will be required to sign the attendance sheet.
- b) User will give approval to the module within one week from the date on which customization is shown.
- c) All the additional new essential requirements of Users which are feasible will be given by purchaser team during 18 months service support period. However, the new requirements will not affect process of final approval and balance payment of that module. User will be required to give final approval on the basis of requirements given at the time of first User requirement finalization. Supplier will certainly fulfill new genuine requirements of Users in a time bound manner. New requirements are to be approved by section head and ERP- Professor-In-charge.
- d) Users will not delay module approval on small issues. Accuracy of information shall be of prime importance, the testing and approval will be given by Purchaser staff without worrying much about minor format changes.
- e) Few nonstandard reports may be required very rarely and all the data may not be available in the ERP for such reports. In such cases, ERP team will generate possible data from ERP and will give it to Users in excel/text format. User will generate such rare necessary customized report using Word / Excel or any other editing tool.
- f) Necessary essential changes which Users may require in future during service support/AMC phase will be given by Supplier. A mechanism of Software Update/Edit Form is already established by the Supplier and same will be followed by Purchaser.
- g) In case if actual User does not sign either to approve or otherwise on testing report for any reason, after two weeks' time, it will be treated as deemed approved. Necessary training will also be given to the System Administrator/programmers/Operators of Purchaser about the functionality and usage of ERP.
- h) ERP development is a continuous process and Supplier is committed to provide solutions for genuine requirements of Users of Purchaser. User will appreciate limitations of ERP and will give approvals once the requirements which are needed on daily basis are fulfilled from ERP.
